

Carina I've told you once. I've told you 100 times that I absolutely love your letters. Of course I got them 2 days in a row like a week after you sent them. You hit me with all the feels with the story of Ruth and about your daughter, Ruth Colleen. I shared part of your letters with some of my friends here and they were like, "damn. You have a great friend." And I was like "I fricken' know."

I have a different therapist this time and she is amazing. She has big, blonde, curly hair and always sits with her elbows on her knees to show that she is listening super intently.

I do an excellent impression of her. I'll show it to you sometime. She is super intense and totally tells it like it is. When I told her about my career aspirations she said, "You can only take your clients as far as you are willing to go." I was like "Alright. Shoot. Let's get to business." But for real. She's awesome and I am excited that I have her.

I have started to become pretty close with a few of the girls which is great because obvi I was nervous.

Love you and tell everyone I say hi♡
Colleen
