

Dearest Karina,

You are the first person I remember actually meeting at 4:20. I'm pretty sure it was pretty fleeting, but we met at the next small group where I admitted I didn't have my own Bible, and you bought me my own without blinking. You're incredibly generous and kind and I'm so blessed to have met you. Being placed in your small group and being paired together for 1:12 can't have been a coincidence - God has brought us together and I'm so so grateful.

Artwin me you hugs ♥

Being able to confide my fears, joys, and doubts in you has been so reassuring - I hope it's been the same for you. I am and will always be here for you, beyond this year, beyond next year, and for sure beyond college. You're so beautiful and insanely strong, I know I'll always be able to look to you for advice. I can't wait to continue growing my faith beside you - you're the first Godly woman I've met & gotten to know, I can honestly say, my whole life, and I love you dearly ♥ lots of love,

Sierra
